BRITISH IMMIGRATION.

The departure of Mr. Alfred Lumb, Argentine Consul-general in London may be accepted as a favourable opportunity to remind President Roca and Dr. Irigoyen, Minister of the Interior, of how little the National Government has done to secure British immigration into the Plate. It is now more than three years since Dr. del Viso, then Minister of Interior, promised to name a British Immigration Board in this city, to conduct, foment, and take charge of British emigration to the Plate. That committee was never named, and beyond ephemeral allusions and fugitive promises by our public men, nothing has been done to further a cause, the greatest, the grandest, and the best for this country.

Mr. Lumb who thoroughly understands this question, might be made the intelligent agent of a new movement which, if successfully carried out, would add to our prosperity infinitely more than new loans or even new railways; and, it is in the hope that the National Government will adopt some practical step after so many promises, that we offer these remarks.

The National Government has reserved for colonization or immigration purposes one of the finest and best tracts of land in the whole valley of the Colorado territory; it is known as the Rincon Grande, rich, fertile, well watered land, some 20 square leagues; and what we propose is, that before Mr Lumb leaves for Europe in the Mondego, the Argentine Government name a committee of British residents in this city, to be called, the British and River Plate Immigration Board, and convey to that committee those 20 square leagues of Colorado lands, in trust, to be sold at a low price to British families in farms of, say, 250 squares, which would allow the agriculturists to pursue a system of mixed farming, that is to say, to keep a small flock of sheep, a few cows etc., besides sowing wheat, maize, etc. We could thus manage to start 120 well-to-do British emigrant families on the Rio Colorado, and from what we know of the land, pasturage, etc, we guarantee to those families certain success. We propose to the Government that this land be sold to the tenants who actually settle on same, at the Government rate of ten thousand paper dollars per league, which would be a very cheap price for a farm of that extent, say, £120, stg., for one thousand acres of good pasture and arable land, and five years, without interest, allowed to the farmer to pay for same.

Mr. Lumb, if he had this basis to act on, would very soon find in the United Kingdom the required number of British agricultural families to settle on the Rincon Grande, and these families would form the nucleus of a British farming settlement down there, that in a very few years would stretch along the valley and turn those desert wilds into smiling homesteads and comfortable farms. We trust that the attention of President Roca and Minister Irigoyen will be called to this matter, and that some such steps be adopted before Mr. Lumb leaves for England.

The whole valley of the Colorado would be changed by the settling of 120 agricultural families in the Rincon Grande; nothing can be easier than the plan we propose, and the very large number of parties who have lands down there must be necessarily interested in the success of the scheme. We have seen what private individual enterprise has done with the once forlorn camps of Venado Tuerto and Loreto; camps that to-day are almost as well and as thickly stocked as those of Pergamino or Rojas. Within the last year 84 families, chiefly British and Belgian, have settled up there, and yet, but for Mr. Casey's great energy, these lands to-day would be howling wildernesses. With the Rincon Grande it would be necessary for the British emigration committee to build a good house and start a first-rate experienced man with cows and sheep thereon, so that, the families arriving would have a place where to stop, until they were started, and a friend and countryman to help and protect them.

We can promise the Government that all this will be attended to, provided the matter is put into proper shape, the committee named, and the land conveyed to it for the purposes expressed; and we hope Mr. Alfred Lumb, who to-day holds an interview with the President, will call H. E.'s attention to this all-important matter.

RECOBA VIEJA.

On Sunday afternoon at 4 p.m. the last door frame of the last of the shops of the old Recoba was levelled. The Plaza was crowded all day with the citizens and very many camp friends witnessing the destruction of the edifice, and some old gentlemen present told anecdotes and stories about the place that would fill a volume; one gentleman pointed to us a ruined arch near to Calle Defensa where, he told us when a child he went with his father every morning to buy the marketing for the house, and up to the year 1829 the Recoba was the only market in the city. The two story house at the corner of Calle Defensa, and which runs back into the old Plaza 25 de Mayo, strange to say, fills to this day the same purpose for which close on a hundred years ago it was built, namely tenement rooms and lodgings. This now very valuable property was sold 60 years ago at such a miserably low price that there is no believing the tradition, whilst the corner in front, that is to say the corner of Defensa and Plaza Victoria, the Garay property, was actually sold for a horse and a guitar in 1816. One can hardly credit such tales, as the property, being in the chief square of the town, must always have had a value. In this same building, which we hear now is to be expropriated (as also that of Escalada's in front) for years and years the renowned British Library was located, and many an evening we passed in its rooms, reading Alison's History of Europe or Robertson's letters on South America. Old Mr. Duffy was the librarian, a man of infinite humor and who on the cold winter nights brewed his own tumbler of whiskey punch in the little back parlor behind the azotea ladder. In those pleasant days, when the swells of Buenos Aires bought their boots either at Fleming's round the corner or at some of the shoemakers in the Recoba, there was a galaxy of bright, well-read young men who made the old British Library their 'rendezvous'; and when the Clerks Provident Society, Heaven save the mark! and some other equally innocent societies got through their little business, the move was to play some trick on the venerable librarian, who was watched by the youngsters. Just as Mr. Duffy would quietly sit down to have his tumbler of punch; Fred Moore or some other would knock at his door. "Beg your pardon Sir!" "But what do you want at this hour of the night, would be Mr. Duffy's salute.

"I want a book, Mr. Duffy."

"And if you want a book, can't you read for yourself and haven't you the shelves before you?"

"No, Mr. Duffy I can't find it."

"And maybe you want to find it when its lent out, to some spalpeen like yourself that ought to be at home in bed, instead of wandering about the town like a 'sereno'".

"Mr. Duffy, I want the book".

"But didn't I tell you the book is out".

(Meanwhile the librarian's punch was getting stone cold, and the sharp wind coming up the stairs increased Mr. Duffy's annoyance; but none of the youngsters were a match for Duffy).

"Ten o'clock gentlemen and lights go out" and Duffy put out the crowd and resumed his punch.

Mr. Duffy was at times inimitable. A well known party who had the reputation of being a book-worom, came up one evening to his table, and rather rudely asked Duffy for a well-known work. "The book is on the shelves Sir," in that room, and would you be after going for it and bringing me the number, instead of asking an old man like me to do it for you.

"Oh! certainly Mr. Duffy, beg your pardon Sir."

Duffy was annoyed at the assumed politeness. "Don't bother me about your pardon, but go and fetch the book,' replied the librarian.

Our friend went and brought Gibbon's Decline and Fall of the Roman Empire 6 vols and placed it on Duffy's table to get entered.

Duffy looked first at the book and then at Mr. M.

"Is that the book you want?"

"It is Mr. Duffy"

"Then I'll be d—d if you get it"

"What do you mean Mr. Duffy?"

"What do I mean is it." "I mean thas you have a great deal of impudence about you. Don't you know Sir, that only 7 days are allowed for the reading of a book, and do you mean to tell an old man like me that you or any other man could read all them books in six months—get out of the place at once—I'll report you to Mr. Armstrong at the next meeting and have you expelled for impudence. God help me, not even Job himself could hold this place 6 months."

The British Library went down; its books are scattered through every English household in the Plate, and many a time, as we take up one of those old books with the British Library imperishably pasted on the cover, we think of its old Librarian and the happy hours we whiled away with him in one of those little rooms that looked out on the old Recova. Five and twenty years ago we all used to stroll under the Recova of an evening, hear the band playing Rigoletto, (it never played another air to our recollection), and watch the girls as they strolled about with their mammas, the whole place perfectly redolent with garlic. After a turn in the Plaza and a stroll under the Recova, then off to visit some of the rich native families that lived in Calle Cuyo, or 25 de Mayo, or Reconquista; maté and music in the white-washed, cane-bottomed-chair sala. Then to the Victoria Theatre, to see "Buenas Noches Sr. Don Simon," and then to bed.

Buenos Aires is undergoing tremendous change, it is improving and going ahead fast. Yet there are a few who would willingly give up all its improvements and grandeur for the dear old-time, when the girls wore cotton dresses made by themselves, and the old "serenos" knocked at our windows to wake us up in the morning, to start in the diligence for Samborombon and Ranchos:

Thus shall memory often, in dreams sublime,
Catch a glimpse of the days that are over;
Thus, sighing, look through the waves of time,
For the long-faded glories they cover.

"Adios Recoba Vieja."

ARGENTINA IN LONDON.

Royal Exchange Buildings,
London, E.C., April 2, 1884.

Dear Sir,

Since I last addressed you (on the 6th Feb.) there has been little to record beyond the continuation of the depression under which the markets have long laboured.

There are evident signs that we have now reached a stage when prices may be said to be so near bottom, and though the long-looked-for time of activity and advance may yet be delayed, many stocks and shares will hardly be bought cheaper than at present rates.

Land Companies appear to be attracting the attention of investors, and inquiries for shares seem likely to increase as time goes on. When compared with other investments, there are perhaps no shares which have held their own so firmly of late, or have paid such steady returns, as well established Land Companies. The Central Argentine Land Company's shares are high enough at present, and it must be recollected that this Company has already parted with a good portion of its best land.

Buenos Ayres and Rosario Railway Company has, we hear, obtained its capital in full, but we doubt whether subscribers have studied the position and prospects of the line sufficiently. Running as it does alongside the great waterways of the River Plate and the Parana and terminating at Rosario, a port for sea-going vessels, it has little chance of obtaining any large share of the produce traffic for exportation, which is the backbone of the traffic on the other railways.

The future of the line is a speculation which investors will do well to "look on at" and wait till results supply them with a guide.

Ensenada Port Railway.—These 7 per cent. Preference Shares remain stationary at 13¾-⅞, and the traffics continue to increase. It is hardly realized over here that this line is the connecting link between the city of Buenos Ayres and La Plata, and uniting both with the only two possible ports or harbours thereabouts, viz., Ensenada and the Riachuelo. The 7 per Cent. is cumulative, and these shares take half of all the surplus earnings over that figure.

Uruguay Unified 5 per Cent. Stock should be left alone, or if held should be sold at the present price. That the Uruguay Government can or will pay 5 per cent. on £11,127,000, when it has with difficulty kept up its payments of 2½ per cent. on £3,500,000, is a problem which time alone can solve. One thing may be taken as certain, that the "interior" holders of the debt are not likely to keep their stock at anything near an 8 per cent. or 9 per cent price, when they can invest their money at 12 per cent. on freehold mortgage, or earn a still higher rate by discounting. We shall therefore, without doubt, have the whole of this £7,627,000 stock shipped on to this market — and then?

Lima Railway shares ought to improve now that peace has been concluded between Chile and Peru. The price of the £20 Shares is 5-½.

Home railways show a further improvement; the chief reasons being cheap money, seasonable weather, slightly better trade reports from the iron and cotton districts, traffics better than had been expected, the Easter holidays falling a month later this year than last, the inclusion in this half-year of one day more than in the corresponding half-year, the probable reduction in the working expenditure on some lines, the absence during the past quarter of a new issue of loans, and companies to absorb savings of the oversold state of the account, and a small but continuous investment demand.

Yours faithfully,

H. Knight.

LONDON LETTER.

(From our own Correspondent).

EGYPT.

April 11.

Facts from the Nile are few and difficult to verify. It seems as if all things concerning Egypt must needs be Sphinx-like and require interpretation, whether they come from Mr. Gladstone, General Gordon, or a newspaper correspondent. All utterances on the subject assume a biblical, semitic, or theocratic tone. As for Gordon, who is surrounded by hostile Arabs, were his gallantry not so renowned and his piety so pronounced, one would lose all faith in him. His letters and sayings appear cooked and spiced to the taste of the recipients and listeners. They remind one of the character given by the Daily News' correspondent to the Khedive, who, to the German Consul says: Prince Bismarck is the only statesman in the world. To the representative of France he acknowledges his devotion to French civilization. To the English Tories, he says, were Lord Beaconsfield alive everything would be well. To the supporters of the present Government he gives assurances of his absolute confidence in Mr. Gladstone, whose great misfortune is to have to deal with a mess which the Tories created. Tewfik only says what he thinks to an Italian favourite.

General Gordon, in an interview with the Times' correspondent, says that in the present situation he recognises a regular concatenation of events, many links of which brought misfortune, but, as a whole, the course of events tend towards a good end, and, he is persuaded, that God's ways are not man's ways. He traces the "links" one by one, from the time the Egyptians went to Tokar, to the defeats of Moncrieff and Baker, and through no less than ten interrelated events, to Graham's victory, and says finally—"The rebel advance and our defeat happened just at the right time to retain Her Majesty's troops. Had these events happened in two months' time, a British advance would have been much hampered by the hot weather."

The date of this conversation is March 21st. On March 11th he writes to a friend—"I have asked for categorical orders as to what is to be done. If they do not mean to relieve us, then there is no use in waiting, and we had better evacuate at once."

Mr. Gladstone and Lord Hartington have quite lately informed us that General Gordon did not expect or ask for relief. From his own letters to other people it is plain that he did expect relief, or, what is the same thing, he acknowledges he can do nothing without military support. In the letter quoted he says—"I have proposed to take all the black troops in the steamers up to the Equator; and to send Stewart to Berber with the white troops. I should then go to the Congo via Bahr-Gazelle, but I fear that as the telegraph is just cut I shall not get an answer to this telegram."

The question is, did our Cabinet receive such a telegram, and what have they replied? We shall know nothing till after the recess, but, in the meantime, the ray of light penetrating the mysterious darkness appears to point to the complete failure of Gordon's mission, his recall or permission to go to the Congo or Hong-Kong, if he likes, and the return of the British Cabinet to their old policy of gradual evacuation of Egypt, to commence as soon as the finances of that country are patched up by Mr. Vincent and Sir Evelyn Baring, under some kind of British guarantee.

The British Government does not seem disposed to boldly assume a Protectorate, and, meanwhile, the dual responsibility at Cairo has ended in a crisis which, we hear to-day, is arranged, but it is evidently only postponed, owing to the impossibility of men like Mr. Clifford Lloyd, with their summary English notions of duty and action, being able to work even with a comparatively civilized Oriental, such as Nubar Pasha. Nubar, indeed, has stated plainly that if he is to be Minister, his subordinates must be subordinate, whether they are English or Egyptian. By the arrangement just made, in regard to the personal quarrel between Nubar Pasha and Mr. Clifford Lloyd—the former threatening to resign—it is quite obvious that as both men remain in office, Mr. Lloyd and the English have had to succumb, which again looks like evacuation being the ultimate solution of the difficulty, as far as the British Cabinet is concerned, or otherwise they would have at once taken the opportunity of allowing Nubar to resign and putting the English officials into absolute power. Nothing short of absolute and permanent government by the English could restore order in even Lower Egypt which from the information given by correspondents, English and foreign, by Professor Sayce, in the "Contemporary Review," by letters from native Egyptians and from all sides, is in a complete state of anarchy. Even the fellaheen detest the English as the source of increased taxation and loss of trade, whilst the Pashas probably—very probably—in league with the Khedive himself, as well as with Nubar Pasha, are secretly making the position of the English agents and under-secretaries as impracticable as possible, and, behind all, are the intrigues of the French colony and French Minister.

The question is now very decidedly, "take Egypt or leave it." Mr. Gladstone, apart from personal views, has entered into engagements with foreign Powers, which will oblige him to submit his foreign policy to their approval, and, under these circumstances, gradual withdrawal is the best policy, for if it were necessary to return by and bye, and drive out the Pashas and their French cooks and opera dancers, it could be done. The French Government will justly oppose our assuming a Protectorate now, but the French can do nothing themselves, and were they to try and take our place, they would have not England but half of Europe agains them.

Mr. Rassam, who is supposed to be an authority, writes a long letter to the Times of this morning, in which he repeats a great deal he had already said in the Pall-Mall Gazette. Mr. Rassam thinks Gordon was deceived by his first reception in Khartoum, and that his going as an agent, not of the British Government, but also of the Egyptian Government, against whose oppression the Soudanese had revolted, was a capital error. Mr Rassam does not think think it possible for English troops to go to Khartoum at this season, and, at the same time, he ridicules the idea of "rescue and retire." He is one who opposes all notions of evacuation so long as India is a matter of interest to this country.

The middle course between immediate evacuation and a Protectorate, is to remain as we are and take the chances of Mahdis, discontented fellaheen, and recalcitrant and incompetent Egyptian officials. This is the course Mr. Gladstone is likely to pursue.

Meantime, Mr. Vincent is in London trying to raise a loan of £8,000,000, of which £4,000,000 would go in payment of indemnities for supposed losses to infamous Greeks, Italians, Jews, Armenians and French traders. The Greek usurers alone claim one million, an amount which would perhaps more than cover the real losses of the whole tribe of extortionists. Under such circumstances, it would be barely possible for an English Government to guarantee the Egyptian loans as part of the purchase money for Egypt, with the understanding that whatever temporary arrangement was to be made the country, Canal and all, was to be ours when the reversion fell in some eighty years hence.

It would be far cheaper to leave Egypt to itself, and attend to the efficiency of our fleet, which would get the Canal for us at much less cost. I must add to this account of Egyptian affairs during the past week, that a native in Cairo has written his opinions in an English newspaper, and they appear to be that if we had retired immediately after the battle of Tel-el-Kebir and left the Egyptians to settle their own affairs—and, I am afraid, he means settle Arabi too—we should have been more popular and stronger than we are at this moment in Egypt. He advocates a continued Protectorate of all the Powers, including Turkey. He says, incidentally, that the Egyptians knew nothing of General Hicks, and that it was Lord Dufferin who urged his being sent, and that since the commencement it is in the Soudan that the English policy has gons wrong.

The Gordon Highlanders and the 42d were most enthusiastically received on their return to Cairo. The 42d Highlanders, however, chose to sulk, and took no notice of the acclamations.

THE GOVERNOR'S MESSAGE.

If every man, individually or as one of an electoral party, continues to enjoy, as to the present, the fullest liberty in recording his vote, to secure the representation he or it has a right to, pacts and agreements are for the individual or his party to make, without any other end than the maintenance of order and the genuineness of the election. If I hold that it is useful and expedient to see all shades of opinion represented in the Legislature—as only thus can the opinion of the majority of those legislated for become known—it is also my belief, gentlemen, that such representation should be genuine, and not the result of Government support to one political party; as such is simply a falsification, the only result of which would be to give to the particular party so supported greater importance than legally attached to it; if I hold that public functionaries should neither use nor abuse the official influence which their political or administrative position places within their reach. If I hold that the most odious of all coercion is that exercised on the citizen at elections, it is also my creed that those public officials who are not prohibited by law from voting, do not cease to be citizens when they become officials; and while I secure electoral freedom for those who are not officials, I will secure it also for those who are, protecting them in their free vote and in all the preliminary acts of the election; otherwise, gentlemen, a political party would merely obtain power to prepare to hand it over to the minority, converted into an accidental majority through all the public functionaries being deprived of their rights.

With these deeply-rooted opinions and theories carried into practice while I am in power, my Government will favour all alike, without exception or limit. But, Messrs. Senators and Deputies, I will not be alone in doing this: If I raise the tone of justice; if I guarantee liberty to all the inhabitants of Buenos Ayres without distinction of party, creed, or nationality, it shall be for the views and by means of the men of the political party to which I belong. I am bound in honour to declare that I will govern with the political party that has elected me as Governor of the Province for three years.

One of the greatest drawbacks of our institutions is administrative disorganization—doubtless because, in the agitated life of a democracy it is rare to find a man willing to pass his own as a public employé. And, as we cannot avoid this drawback—created by the richness of the country, which opens a vast horizon to every inhabitant and stimulates him to exertion—it is indispensable to bestow the public posts on men of recognised probity, constant energy, and ability for the discharge of their duty. It has come to my knowledge that criminal intentions against public order and liberty are entertained in some quarters. I am forewarned. I will maintain peace, the first of a people's aspirations, and to preserve it unbroken I will seek support in public opinion by denouncing openly any thing of this kind that may be attempted or come to my knowledge.

We have passed through three years of such great and rapid progress that it is very difficult to give an account of it, and I consider that the ement has arrived, not absolutely to halt, but to advance more slowly, to enable us to finish the works commenced, organise carefully their future management, and recruit the strength of the country, expended in the great enterprises that have been carried out, those in course of being so, and those planned—and I think this will be work enough for three years of Government: "Ergo," I will make every effort to continue the patriotic work, beginning with the construction of this capital city of the province. It is necessary that no room be left for calumny in the solution of the Capital question.

Facts are stubborn things. A city, built by the united efforts of the constituted authorities and the people, and which, from the number of its inhabitants and buildings, and its conveniences for civilised life, may prove worthy of this province, proves more than all verbal protests; as it cannot be denied or doubted. Much has been done, but much remains to be done, and I take up the work with the same confidence as I have in our destinies. I cherish the hope that, with your valuable assistance, we can, in three years' time, bequeath to coming generations a city provided with all the conveniences that civilization demands; with a commodious and safe port that will be standing evidence of the love of the people of Buenos Ayres for Argentine nationality, and show that they are as well able to carry out such difficult works as any other people in the world.

And although it is not now necessary to put forth the same energy and activity as the retiring Administration had to do, because the impulse is already given, it is our task, and mine, to establish the new administration outside the grand centre of opinion that always constituted the strength of the Provincial Government, in order that there may be no injurious disturbance, and those defects of administration be remedied which it was impossible to correct, owing to the deep root they had taken in custom during many years. In three years the railways have been tripled, and there are other lines in construction that will again double the extent of those in existence. It appears to me, gentlemen, that it would not be prudent to still further extend them just at present, and that the Province should confine itself to finishing the lines already decreed, which unite all its extremes with San Nicolas, the Capital of the Republic, this city, Mar del Plata and Bahia Blanca, thus supplying all present wants, and for some years to come.

Professor Holmberg's report on the geological formation of Casey Land (Curumalan) is out, and, we hear, very interesting. We would like to have a copy of it, to learn if the Sierra has a gold or silver "bonanza" in its bowels, or "black diamonds," which would be better still.

ADMIRAL MAXSE ON OUR EGYPTIAN POLICY.

Speaking at a crowded and enthusiastic meeting of Liberals at Plymouth on Monday night, Admiral Maxse denounced "the unholy alliance" between the peace-at-any-price men and the Jingoes. He said:—

It is childish pedantry to assert that if a man levels a rifle at you, you may not forestall him by attack. The responsibility of war is not to be determined—as impetuous peace enthusiasts assert—by the first flash, but rather by the first menace of arms. (Hear, hear.) The truest friends of peace are not those who declaim against war and who denounce its outbreak, but they are those who oppose the wrongs being committed which inevitably lead to war. (Applause). But the peace party are blind to the real causes of war, and can only recognize the shock of arms arising probably from some moral outrage which, may be, their silence has sanctioned. They will turn their virtous rhetoric equally upon Mr. Gladstone, who has most reluctantly accepted a warlike situation forced upon him by circumstances over which he had no control, or upon Lord Beaconsfield, who went out of his way to create a warlike situation. Mr. Gladstone is not responsible for the position in Egypt. (Hear.) He inherited it from the late Conservative Government. (Hear, hear.) He found himself, on taking charge of the government of this country, pledged to the support of the Khedive, whether he liked it or not. Here was the original cause of the Egyptian war, and this should have been the subject of denunciation by the peace party, not the war, which was an unavoidable effect. (Hear.) I would say to those Liberals who do not like the Egyptian affair that they must bear in mind that England is one of the Great Powers, that she has the reponsibilities of a Great Power, and that she has an empire or an expansion over the whole world. A few Englishmen seem to regret that she is a Great Power, and take every opportunity of discrediting our influence and recommending our disappearance. I protest against the doctrine of national suicide. (Applause). It is the veriest claptrap to say that the empire has been founded upon bloodshed; for that matter, every nation has obtained its freedom by bloodshed, and Sir Wilfrid Lawson's right to scold us all in the House of Commons is the result of the bloodshed of his ancestors (Hear.) Progress means, among other things, the association of physical force with moral ideas. The mission of the Radical party is to take care that there is no relapse into similar crimes and errors. It is its duty also to preserve our empire for the sake of those it may benefit, and to maintain our strength in the interest of human progress, remembering that in nine cases out of ten where we withdraw a worse Power steps in. (Hear). The best solution of the Egyptian question would, in my opinion, be, were it possible, a European Protectorate. The danger of this, however, is dissension, jealousy, and conflict between the protecting Powers. Failing this, I should have liked to have seen a British Protectorate established. I think that only under such a Protectorate is there any chance of order, progress, and the protection of the nation being secured. (Hear.) There is no country in the world where such facility exists, as in England, for directing public opinion upon abuses, and hence for moralising a government or a protectorate. An opportunity occurs here of illustrating my view of what party allegiance requires from a member of the party. Mr. Gladstone, as yet, has declared against a protectorate—I regret it, and I regret that his pledges to Europe seem to prevent the establishment of such a protectorate. Supposing that a resolution were brought forward in the House in favour of a protectorate, that a critical division were expected, and that upon the vote were to depend whether Mr. Gladstone remained in power or not what should I do? I should follow Mr. Gladstone. (Great cheering.) Why? Because I am a party man on behalf of principles generally favourable to the national welfare, and Mr. Gladstone, in power, means the promotion of nine principles out of ten beneficial to the country, and the advent of Lord Salisbury to power means the encouragement of nine bad principles out of ten. (Cheers.)

THE PIPE WATER.

To the Editor of the Standard.

Dear Sir

That "a little knowledge is a dangerous thing" is well proved by 'Juancito's" alarmist letter, which you publish in your issue of to-day. It is quite true that water is often the vehicle for the conveyance of the typhoid poison into the human system, but the source of the poison itself is a germ from some case of typhoid fever which has by chance got into the water. Now the usual source of typhoid poison in this city is leakage from a 'pozo' of the letrina into either the well or the algibe, hence it is almost impossible that the water of the aguas corrientes should become contaminated by the poison of this justly dreaded fever. Well-water in this town is absolutely poisonous, algibe water is good, provided the algibe is carefully made and kept clean. "Juancito" and his family are to be congratulated on their safe position as regards pollution of their water supply by typhoid poison, inasmuch as they are perforce prevented from drinking either well-water or algibe water. No scientific man will make rotten water synonymous with "aguas corrientes" as 'Juancito' does. 'Aguas corrientes' are cloudy from the presence of mud and some vegetable matter, but not in a state of decomposition; directly the splendid filters get to work this cloudiness will, in a great measure, disappear. 'Juancito' also should know that the intake for potable water is to be made through a tunnel opening a considerable way out into the mighty Plate. I trouble you with these few lines, Mr. Editor, to prevent the spread of alarmist doctrines without scientific bases.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

On Sunday morning the mole was crowded with passengers arriving from Montevideo. The Honble Edmund Monson, our new British Minister, and family arrived up; also Dr. Fleury, Mr Lowry, and all the opera troupe. Madame Alentado, the "Vicaria" of the Convent of the Sacred Heart Paris, was expected, and many friends went to meet her, but she arrived too late from Flores Island to catch the steamer; she will be up this morning. The grand opera troupe for the Colon has arrived, and many of the chief artistes came up in the river steamer. Tamagno was enveloped in friends on the mole head.

Yesterday there was a bewitching scene all day at the National Theatre; the gay bachelors were fairly enveloped in ivy green. We remember when ivy was the scarcest plant in the Plate, and except at Mr James Carthy's quinta at San Isidro, there was not a leaf to be had. Now everyone has it and all the quintas are full of it. To-day the bachelors ask from the matrons of Buenos Aires flowers. Who will deny them? Poor fellows, they are fairly done up, worked to death; it would have been far better for them all to have got married and turned sheepfarmers or estancieros, the necessary sequence to very early marriages in the Plate, since, it is so monstrously dear for a young couple to live in town and keep up with the tyle going, there is nothing else after the honeymoon save the camp. If the ladies would dress more moderately, there would be 500 more marriages. Flowers ladies! Roses and violets and sweet-William by the basket full, we ask of you all, in the name of Love's young dream.

The Umberto has brought European dates from Gibraltar to 16th ult. The police in England continue to make arrests amongst the Fenians. The relations between France and England are again getting cool, owing to the French pretensions and proceedings about Egypt, and in Tonkin, Madagascar and the China Islands.

Flores is going ahead so fast that we want more tramway cars. The people all complain that in the evening and morning there is no standing room in the cars. We call the attention of the Manager, as it seems that within the last year the population of Flores has doubled.

The latest sensation in English High Life is the arrest of a peer, Lord St. Leonards, son of an ex-Lord Chancellor, for an assault on his servant girl. He will be tried by his Peers.

The Boca was thronged on Sunday evening, and hundreds of our fashionables went down to meet the ladies of the Colon opera company. The sight was grand. Every lady had about 50 boxes. On Thursday they all make their appearance in Colon in the 'Huguenots,' and now that the Recova is removed and the Colon belongs to the Municipality, the opera will be doubly entertaining. The whole 'temporada' is disposed of. No free tickets this year for the Press. In point of fact we shall soon need another Colon, for the population has so increased, there is no room for the people.

The fine steamer Mercurio, built in Glasgow for Mr Ribes of Salto, B.O., will not be out as soon as expected, as letters are received stating that as she steamed out of the Greenock Dock she went foul of one of the piers and was so damaged that she had to put back; we may expect her out, however, soon, and next month the new Saturno will be ready, and also the magnificent Olimpo. All these steamers go on the Montevidean and Uruguay route, so that very soon there will be no scarcity of fine river steamers here; yet the traffic seems to grow faster than the vessels, and there is trade for all. The new steamer Posadas is shortly expected; she will run on the Santa Fe, Parana and Rosario route, which may be termed our wheat and colonies line.

The cry is 'still they come.' On Sunday a telegram from Genoa was received announcing the sailing of the fast steamer Nord America with 1082 emigrants on board. Mr Lavarello tells us that this flow of emigrants from Italy to the Plate at this time of year is most unprecedented, and that even 200 emigrants now on board the Nord America would be over the average. Our wide-awake readers who think this country is going to the dogs, can amuse themselves with the little telegram from Genoa. It always shows how the wind blows in the Mediterranean.

The demolition of the old Recova was the quickest thing ever done in the Plate. It was all standing on Thursday last at sunset; on Sunday the sun went down on a few remaining cartloads of its debris. The paving of the site began yesterday. Verily Mr Alvear is the Napoleon of Lord Mayors. The word "impossible" is not in his dictionary.

The "beau monde" went to Palermo Park on Sunday "en masse," and had their usual parody of "Le Bois." One swell carriage went, horses and all, into a ditch, owing to the furious driving that is so fashionable and so foolish; but, strange to say, neither the occupants of the vehicle nor the coachman was much hurt.

The reception of the Peruvian Minister yesterday at the Government House was the inauguration of the now magnificent square wherein the troops were lined. The view from the Government House balconies was simply splendid, and Mr Alvear has immortalized himself by changing the "Plaza chica" into the "Plaza grande." The plaza reflects the country, the old Recova has banished as did the Carhue frontier line, and the Indians from both are no more. We hold for to-morrow the speeches on the occasion.

Yesterday, Dr. Plaza was able to go out as far as Palermo, and to-day he goes to his office in the Government House. We trust that he will not overwork himself. The finances of the nation never showed a more superabundant prosperity than now, and Dr. Plaza's star is brilliantly in the ascendant.

H.E. Sr. Ortiz, Minister of Foreign Affairs, entertained at dinner yesterday Mr. Lumb, Argentine Consul General in London, who leaves on Thursday.

Mr. Langworthy, the great English millionaire, is expected out in the Nord America on 26th.

Cedulas E	89½
Cedulas F	86½
National Bank Shares....	147½
Nat. Bank Certificados..	62

The week has opened with much activity on the Bolsa and with a rise in the share market. Whilst Cedulas remain in a stationary condition of dullness at uniform rates, the shares of the National Bank continue to rise with buoyancy; the whole market backs the bulls, and there is no knowing at what price the stock may close at the end of the month. The Scrip of the Bank is firm also and there are strong buyers at 62 for the end of the month, but there are sellers for cash at this rate. The Scrip appears not to participate in the rise of the paid-up stock.

One hundred shares changed hands for the 17th at 147½. Over 2,000 were sold for the end of the month; the market opened at 147¾ and closed at 148. The market closed with a very firm feeling, and immediately after the closing of the ring 500 were sold cash at 148½—but the seller could not produce the shares and the business fell through. This shews the exceedingly firm tenor of the market. It is rumored in the market that the half-year's dividend of the Bank will be $8—but this is a rather premature guess for the present; what is known is that the Bank is doing a roaring business and will no doubt pay a handsome dividend to the shareholders. There were buyers of shares for the end of June at 150.

About one thousand Certificates of the National Bank were sold at 62 for cash and for the end of the month.

The Cedula Market continues very dull. Six thousand E changed hands for cash at 89. A few thousand F were also sold cash at 86¾-⅞. Nothing further done in the market, which closed both dull and weak.

Fair amounts of exchange taken by the banks to-day at 47⅛ and 47 9/16; more offering at these rates. Some American exchange done at 47⅛. Francs are scarce.

The last rail of the Pergamino Railway to Junin was nailed down to-day. Application has been made to the Government to open the section to the public, and it is to be hoped that the Government will grant same immediately.

On Saturday Mr. Lucas Gonsalez left for Santa Fe to begin the works of the railway to the Colonies. Navvies have been already engaged for the earthworks. Arrangements have been made with the contractor to employ iron sleepers from Europe, as wooden sleepers are scarce. This seems uncommonly strange, when we consider that there is enough Quebracho in the Chaco to supply all the railways in the world with sleepers.

The following were the sales at the ring during official hours:—

Cedulas—
For cash E 6,000 at 89⅜
For cash F 5,400 at 86¾-⅞
Sales, 11,400
National Bank Shares—
For May 17th (d) 100 at 147½
For May 31st 2,250 at 147¾-⅞-¾-148
Sales, 2,350
National Bank Certificates, 30 o/o paid—
For cash 369 at $62
For May 31st (d) 400 at 62
Sales, 769

Mr. Humphreys, sub-manager of the London and River Plate Bank, was welcomed on his return from the camp.

Mr. Fisher, manager of the Central Argentine Railway, has arrived from Rosario.

The splendid estancia Caledonia, in the partido of Cañuelas, comprising three leagues of land, has been rented by a wealthy countryman at the rate of $150,000 m/c per league. This fine property belongs to the MacClymont testamentaria and will not be sold at auction.

Many parties who went out to the great Manantiales auction remained at Mr. Fernandez's estancia. The animals sold fetched splendid prices; the proceeds of the first day exceeded one million paper dollars. The Durhams were much admired by all. The principal buyers were Messrs E. Casey, Landivar, Peña, Justo, Gonsalez, Chaves, etc.

The money market rules very easy and much money is offering for investment. Government bills shew no change.

Argentine Gas Shares were in demand to-day at 103, ex-dividend.

Advices from Bahia Blanca state that cold weather has begun earlier than usual; the thermometer is at freezing point every morning. The railway mole progresses slowly and it will only be finished towards the end of the year. The well sunk by the Railway Company in the port now reaches a depth of 252 feet, but water has not been found up to the present. Two barques went aground in the beginning of the mouth; one grounded in the harbor with a cargo of lumber, but she got off soon after discharging part of her cargo; the other barque is fast on the Toro bank at the mouth of the bay, attempts are being made at present to get her off. The telegraph line to Monte Caseros is becoming a greater necessity every day; these barques, for instance, were for three days in distress and nobody in the port knew a word about them. A pontoon is also much needed at the mouth of the channel.

A "point" of novillos from Mr Michael Dogherty's rodeo in Navarro, was sold the other day at the splendid price of 600 $m/c each, "al corte."

The Nord America will bring to the Plate over one thousand emigrants; this is splendid news. The Hogarth is in; she brings a large consignment of gold to the National Bank.

Mr Graban, of the firm of Bois Hnos., left on Saturday for Europe. Mr A Voigt, so well-known in commercial circles, has taken over the management of the firm with full power to act and sign.

The Municipal Board met to-day in secret session and resolved to address a note to the Government protesting against the official recognition of Lord Mayor A'vear. Aldermen Nevares, Viola, Alcu and Montaña begged to be excused from joining in the matter and withdrew in consequence.

Mr Degreef, the auctioneer, sold yesterday an acre of land between Calles Mathen, Pichincha, Constitucion and Pavon, in small sites at the rate of 20 to 30 $m/c per square vara.

During afterhours 300 Certificates were sold at 63; the market closed at 64 sellers for cash and 63 buyers. Holders asked 65 for the end of the month. Some were sold at 73½ for the end of June.

There was a flare-up in the liquidation parlor during afterhours. Shares jumped from 148 to 149½, the market closing at 149½, sellers for the end of the month. About one thousand shares were sold. This rapid advance in the stock staggered the market and all are on the "qui vive," as it is quite evident that there must be some good news in the wind. Cedulas F were sold for the end of the month at 86. Cedulas E shewed no change. There was great excitement in the parlor up to 5 o'clock. The bulls are carrying everything before them. There were buyers for June at 150½, but no sellers.

There is no change in freights; rates continue weak, but unaltered. There is not much produce offering and bales are getting scarce. The tonnage in port is very large.

Great preparations are being made for the inauguration of the Mendoza Railway. Mr. White, Chief of the Engineers' Department, leaves soon for the inauguration.

From the Plaza Once de Setiembre we have the following:—
163 waggons arrived with produce.
The arrivals were:—

COMISION DE DISTRIBUCION DE TIERRAS EN La Plata

EDITOR'S TABLE

A colleague says that private musical soirees and matinees will be a distinguishing feature of the fashionable amusements of this season. Moses deliver us from them! Of all the dreary humbugs with which society tries to delude itself into the belief that it is amused, amateur musical mornings and evenings, for those who really understand music, are the worst.

The second tenor of the Colon opera company is an ex-officer of the Russian army; he used to sing so well at the mess table that his brother officers used to advise him to go on the stage, and he finally took them at their word, and has had no cause to regret it.

There was very little said yesterday about the Municipal row, and it was all but forgotten. All the public care about now is to get rid of the "Consejo" as quickly and quietly as possible; but Congress only can do this.

We have received a poem on Lacroze's tram ticket. The measure is so faulty that it goes where the old copy goes. The last few lines may be amuse some of the drivers or "mayorales;" here they are:—

MORAL.

Don't ride in trams, if you're a "howling swell,"
For cads in trams are treated quite as well,
Don't take offence, when you get sound advice,
Nor write to papers, without thinking twice.
Yours
CUDDY.

The race announced for Sunday last, between the 'Moro' and 'Vincent' at Palermo attracted a large number of racing amateurs to the green sward of Palermo. A deplorable contretemps, for which M Duffaut was in no way responsible, his good faith being quite unimpeached, prevented his horse ('Moro') coming to the post at the hour named by the Jockey Club; so the match was, by mutual consent, postponed till to-day, at 12½ p.m. In case either of the horses does not put in an appearance, the stakes (20,000$ m/c) will be handed to the owner of the horse on the ground.

We hear that Belgrano is almost empty now, owing to the number of Provincial employees who lived there and have gone to La Plata. The free railway tickets to and from the provincial capital have been stopped, hence the exodus.

Mr. and Mrs Parish and family will leave for Mendoza in a few days, with Dr. Irigoyen, Minister of the Interior, who will inaugurate the railway, which is all but completed to the charming city of the West. This is the time of year to visit Mendoza, the climate there at this time of the year being the finest this side of the grave.

The reason why there are neither boxes nor seats to be had at the Colon Theatre this year is that the London custom has been introduced, and some speculators have bought up most of them, and mean to "shave" the public royally in disposing of them. It will take some time to accustom our operaloving public to this additional drain on their purses, and a mild row about it would in no way surprise us.

An inebriated Basque brickmaker at San Isidro was killed by a train on the Northern Railway on Sunday. All his own fault, poor fellow.

The Savoie arrived yesterday at Montevideo. Her mails are due here this morning.

The new Provincial Government appears to keep pretty much in the old groove. The Western Railway Board has just named 16 Inspectors at a salary of $5,000 m/c each. All these Inspectors are new men, and none of the old and tried clerks have been promoted. The very old story.

"On dit" in naval circles that the Admiral Brown and the Chacabuco are going on a cruise to Bahia Blanca in company.

There was a row in the Opera House on Sunday night owing to one of the artists, who had been dismissed during the day by M. Massenet, rising in his seat and making a speech to the audience in which he expressed his indignation in the most elegant French. Hisses, cheers, yells, cat-calls, the crowing of cocks and braying of asses followed, and the speaker was "hauled" by the 'blues,' protesting that Liberty, Equality and Fraternity were all but a dream at the best in this superfine country.

A poor lady who was out of her mind threw herself overboard from the English steamer Cosmos on its last trip down from Salto. Her husband, children and mother were on board with her, and there was a very painful scene when the sad act became known to them.

The great event of Sunday was the arrival of Ferrari's opera company. To believe that they can make their debut on Thursday next in such an opera as the Huguenots, it is necessary to understand their great powers and capabilities. Tamagno, the tenor, and Tamburlini, the basso, are already well known, and the rest of the company is made up as follows:—Sta. Teodorini, first dramatic soprano; Sra. Ravogli, first dama ligera; Sra. Clementine de Vere, first contralto; Sras. Medecailler and Ravogli, also first contraltos; Figuer and Secchi, first tenors; Alentuna and Veroriri, first baritones; and Sillick with Tamburlini the two basses. There are besides 24 ballet girls with two first 'bailarinas,' and Messrs. Bassi and Ceiveire as conductors with Sr. Maggi as director of chorus. As can be gathered from the above, the company is one of unusual excellence, and by the way in which the seats and boxes have been bought up, the public seems to know this. Unlike some of the experiences of former years, the ladies of the company now present a formidable array of beauty, Mdme de Vere carrying off the palm even from the well known Teodorini and Ravogli. There are only 40 tertulias and 5 boxes left of the whole house. Even the 'cazuela' is already bought out.

Such a commotion was lately caused in Rio by the performance of an indecent French play entitled "From Hell to Paris," that the police had to prohibit its repetition. Some very good people consider that the distance between the two places named is by no means great; but this is really too hard on our 'simpatica' Parisian friends.

The Skating Rink is becoming a most favourite resort now. On Sunday there was no skating and scarcely standing room in the place.

A Derangement of the Liver

THE CAUSE OF DISEASE IN THE STOMACH, KIDNEYS, AND Nervous System.

Below will be found a brief summary of a Lecture upon the Liver, delivered before the Eclectic College of Medecine, by

Dr. J. Haydock

The Liver has been known as the great blood-maker and blood-purifier of the circulation. From its size and spongy structure, it plays a most important part in the animal economy, as regards assimilation and nutrition. Food taken in the mouth and acted upon by the digestive organs of the stomach is converted into Glucose and Peptone, and in these forms enters the Portal vein. Here, by the action of the liver, these substances are converted into a form of sugar and pass out of the liver by a large vein, called the Hepatic vain, into the great circulation. The new material now formed serves two purposes: viz; the maintenance of heat in the body and assisting in the cell growth of the system.

Dr. Murchison says "The composition of bile and its secretion is very complex. It is constantly being secreted by the liver, and, increasing suddenly before eating, gradually decreases as soon as the appetite is satisfied and feeding ceases." Now, if this most important organ of the body becomes torpid, or the passage of bile interfered with, emaciation and dis-ease ensue. I note eight marked peculiarities that now occur, and which we all know off:—

1. The patient complains of a feeling of weight and fullness of the stomach.
2. Distension of the bowels by wind.
3. Heartburn.
4. A feelingof weariness, pains in the limbs and great sleepiness after meals.
5. A bad taste in the mouth, especially in the morning, and furred tongue.
6. Constipation, with an occasional attack of diarrhœa.
7. Headache in front of head.
8. Depression of spirits and great melancholy, with lassitude and a disposition to leave everything for to-morrow.

All of the above symptoms go to show functional derangement of the liver; and now comes the great importance of any error made as to the condition of the patient. He should immediately provide himself with a Liver Stimulant, the most common form of which is a Pill. Daily experience shows that this, when the Pill is compounded properly, is the readiest mode of inciting and promoting the action of the Liver, and can be almost always relied on. I have devoted many years of my life, as many of you now before me know, to compounding a Pill that will act readily and systematically as a Bilious remedy. I do not believe in great purgatives, and therefore have made a Pill, one of which is an active and thorough dose. I have called it

Dr. Haydock's New Liver Pill

(SUGAR COATED)

One Pill is a Dose!|One Pill is a Dose!

For all Diseases of the Kidneys, Retention of the Urine, Dr. Haydock's New Liver Pills are a perfect cure. One Pill will satisfy the most skeptical.

For Female Diseases, Nervous Prostration, Weakness, General Lassitude, Want of Appetite and Sick Headache, Dr. Haydock's New Liver Pills, will be found an Effectual Remedy.

They are universal in their effects, and a cure can almost always be guaranteed.

Each vial contains Twenty Pills. One Pill is a Dose. Price Twenty-five cents. For sale by all Druggists

Every Pill is Sugar-Coated. If your druggist does not keep them, we will mail them free to any address on receipt of 25 cents. Five vials for $1.00. Buy at once. Do not Deal.

Pildoras Holloway.

Las virtudes de esta admirable medicina son especialmente eficaces para expulsar de la Sangre toda impureza. En los casos de debilidad, ella es incomparable, al paso que cura radicalmente las Indigestiones, y los desordenes generales del Higado, del Estomago, y de los Intestinos, restableciendose, como por encanto, el vigor y la salud normal, dichas Pildoras remueven asimismo las dolencias que suelen sufrir a las Mugeres al llegar estas a la edad critica.

Unguente Holloway.

Este incomparable Balsamo sana los Males de Piernas y de Pecho, las Llagas Antiguas, y aun esas Ulceras cuyo orijen no conviene mencionar en un anuncio publico. Para todas las Erupciones cutaneas no hay remedio igual al Unguente Holloway, al que millares deben la salvacion, tanto de sus Brazos y Piernas como de su existencia.

Antes de comprar, examinese con mucha cautela el Rotulo en el Bote o la Caja, para cerciorarse si esta la direccion de 533 Oxford Street, London, pues si no esta, entonces se trata de perpetrar un descarado engaño.

Se invitan a las personas que sean defraudadas por los vendedores que expenden Las Pildoras y el Ungueno de 'Holloway' falsificadas para que se sirvan al comunicarme los pormenores, e inmediatamente para formalizar procesos legales contra los Ofensores, y recompensare liberalmente a los Delatores por el trabajo que se tomen, comprometiendome a que no haya trascendencia de sus nombres.
